

Lanre Gentry Begs Mercy Aigbe For Forgiveness, Families Ask Her To Drop Charges

Jun 12, 2017

NIGERIA: -

In latest developments, it seems the Lanre Gentry/Mercy Aigbe saga will soon be over as it is been reported that estranged husband of Nollywood actress, Mercy Aigbe has surrendered and now seeks to take his wife back.

Too good to be true right? But its the latest gist filtering in as Lanre has gone over to Mercy Aigbe's family with the intention to end the feud between him and his wife to show that the bitter war between the couple will be ending soon hopefully.

Mercy Aigbe's marital mess has been the talk of the town as it made major news headlines and went viral, stirring reactions and counter reactions on social media.

Presently speaking, we don't know yet if the mother of 4 will accept this, because right now the case is up in court for Gentry's alleged domestic violence which even caused him to be jailed sometime ago.

According to sources, process for the amicable resolution of both parties are ongoing and the two families are begging Mercy to drop the charges against her husband who is now ready to take her back as his wife at least for the sake of the children.

We just hope Mercy will respond positively though...